CONFERENCE ON GEORGIA STRIKE.

Commissioner Neil Meets Governor, Manager of Railroad and Union V. Pres.

Atlanta, Ga., May 27.—The problem of how to save the railroads of the south from danger of a spread of the Georgia railroad strikers' strike with its disquieting negro problem was one of the most troublesome issues presented at the conference here yesterday between United States Commissioner of Labor Charles F. Neil, Governor Smith, General Manager T. W. Scott of the railroad, and Vice-President Ball of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

In view of the race question involved, the widely separated residences of three of the parties to the negotiations was noteworthy. Mr. Ball is from Toronto, Canada, while Washington is represented by Mr. Neil, and Georgia by Mr. Scott and Governor Smith.

From investigation along the right of way of the railroad it was learned that most of the reported instances of throwing stones at trains were pure fabrications. The danger from such missiles thrown with malicious intent was one of the reasons given why the engineers refused to take out their trains, thereby tying up the entire system.

The strikers are willing to take out engines drawing the mails if requested to do so. They have reserved the right, however, to say whether they will carry passengers at the same time.

Another heavy blow was dealt yesterday to automobile transportation that has been in operation in the territory where railroad service has ceased for nearly four days. Pouring rains stalled many of the automobiles and long wagon trains that have been transporting food and other necessities from town to town.

PETROSINO'S DEATH.

Indications Now That He Was Victim of The Camorra.

Rome, May 27.—Newspaper reports from Naples announce the discovery of papers that may be regarded as proving conclusively that Petrosino was the victim of the Camorra. The most important find is a telegram from Petrosino to the police worded as follows: "Have discovered the leader of the Camorra, Ericeone. Know his hiding place. Hold him under my hand. Will arrest him and send him to you on receipt of your instructions."

It can be stated that there is little doubt that the Camorra, learning the contents of this telegram, murdered Petrosino.

He said his life was not worth living but that he was unable to find courage to end it. Yesterday morning he was arrested and appeared in court on the additional charge of attempting to commit suicide.

CUTTING THE ESTIMATES

Careful Work by the Executive Departments

LOWEST POSSIBLE CUTS

Congress Will Be Responsible for the Increases—Other News of a Day's Proceedings in Washington.

Washington, May 27.—Careful examination of all the estimates for 1911 is being made in the various departments as the result of the president's demand for economy. He will send to Congress these estimates put at the lowest figure consistent with what the officials believe is necessary to maintain the government and the responsibility for their increase is to be put upon Congress. "The administration is to get credit for bringing the expenditures down to the minimum, and not Congress," said a prominent official. "Heretofore it has been the practice for chairman of appropriation committees to proudly say, in reporting appropriation bills, that the committee has reduced the estimates submitted by the treasury very materially."

NEW YORK SUICIDE MYSTERY.

The man, whose identity has not been established, was instantly killed by the plunge of more than one hundred feet to the street pavement. The young woman, who was caught before she could leap and who described herself as Grace Anthony, twenty-two years old, of Brooklyn, insisted that she did not know the suicide and that his act had no connection with hers. The police believe there is some mystery attached to her identity.

NORTH QUILTS AS CENSUS CHIEF

End of the Controversy With Secretary Nagel

DURAND SUCCEEDS HIM

Controversy with Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel Was Directly Responsible for the Action Taken.

Washington, May 27.—S. N. D. North, director of the census has tendered his resignation to President Taft, and it has been accepted.

E. Dana Durand, deputy commissioner of corporations, has been named to succeed him. North's resignation is a direct result of his recent controversy with Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel. The following statement in connection with the case was given out at the White House:

"Director North tendered his resignation as director of the census. It was accepted and the name of Mr. E. Dana Durand, now deputy commissioner of corporations, has been sent to the Senate as his successor."

Mr. North's resignation as director of the census was based on the ground that on account of conditions existing and likely to continue, his administration of the census office would not probably be successful.

Mr. Durand is from Florida. He has been in the bureau of corporations for some time and it is believed will work in harmony with Secretary Nagel. It had been supposed up to within the last few days that the controversy between Secretary Nagel and Director North had been amicably adjusted. The friction between the two continued, however, and at last Secretary Nagel put the matter squarely up to President Taft, saying that he or Mr. North would have to leave the service, as existing conditions between them were impossible.

Mr. North held to the belief that the census bureau was an independent institution and that he was responsible only to the president. A congressional enactment put the census bureau under the department of commerce and labor, however, and Secretary Nagel felt that in spite of the great powers conferred by Congress on the director, that official should be subordinate to the cabinet officer in charge of the bureau.

$30,000,000 SUGAR SUIT BEGINS.

Action Against "Trust" Under Sherman Act.

New York, May 27.—Trial of the $30,000,000 suit of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company which is alleged to have defrauded the Philadelphia plant of the Pennsylvania company after securing a controlling interest and putting its own representatives on the board of directors. This is a contested, constitutionally restrained trade.

In May, 1908, the suit was dismissed on the ground that there was no case of action under the Sherman law, but the United States circuit court of appeals reversed the decision and restored the action to the calendar. A jury was secured during the first session of the court yesterday. John G. Milburn and Henry W. Taft were among the counsel for the American Sugar Refining company. Ex-Governor Frank S. Black and Samuel L. Upmeyer, with others, appeared for the plaintiffs.

The General Demand

of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

MAGAZINE REVIEW.

Dr. O. F. Wiener, formerly president of the Canton Christian college in China, writes interestingly in an article in the May number of The North American Review, of "The Experiment in Constitutional Government in China."

He describes the reforms in the administration of the Chih-li province, and especially of the municipality of Tientsin, which were instituted by Yuan Shih-kai after which, it seems, reforms in other parts of the Empire are likely to be instituted. He says:

"When the Imperial edict appeared ordering people and officials to prepare the way for a national representative form of government, Viceroy Yuan accepted it as meaning what it said, on the principle that the only way to do things is to do them, set about to see that the Imperial order was obeyed in the region whose rule had been entrusted to him. He reasoned that the only way in which the people of the Empire could be prepared for general self-government was by instituting carefully organized schemes of local self-government."

He argued that people who could not conduct intelligently the affairs of their own neighborhood would never be equal to the larger and remoter responsibility of managing the affairs of a whole nation. He was convinced that the same qualities, knowledge and experience which made men successful in caring for the public interests of their own localities would fit them for taking part in national affairs. And so he set to work educating his people and officials in the advantages, duties and methods of local self-government."

The Y. M. C. A. in the Orient.

In no phase of Y. M. C. A. activities is the work of the association thrown against a more picturesque or dramatic background than in its labor in the Far East, writes Hugh C. Weir in The Circle Magazine for May. It is a work for those young men who, in all the world, face the most stupendous problems. Among the youth in the gymnasiums and libraries of the Y. M. C. A. we will find the leaders of the new Orient—the men who are to guide the oldest nations in history through their greatest crises, and upon whose shoulders largely depends the question of how China and Japan and India and Ceylon are to use the new power that is just within their grasp.

We are accustomed to view the eastern half of the world much as the "minority party" in politics. Few of us know that while the continents of Europe and America boast 400,000,000 inhabitants, those of Asia and Africa boast 900,000,000, two and a half times as many. These hundreds of millions have been doing through the centuries which have given us the supremacy of the globe, but they are waking up. For over two hundred years missionary heralds and martyrs have been sowing seed in the world's darker half, and we are just realizing that the harvest is at hand. We have nourished that seed, we have eliminated one by one the obstacles to its growth, the reaping will not be in our hands. The most that we may do is to strengthen and develop the reapers even as we have developed their harvest. The reapers are the young men of China and Japan and India and Korea, the youth of today who will be the statesmen and the educators and the warriors of tomorrow. These are the nation builders whose future and that of so great a percentage of the world's population depends largely upon the influence of the Y. M. C. A. and the currents of physical, mental, and moral manhood set in motion on American territory by Americans.

CAN'T ENTERTAIN TAFT.

Had Thought of Having Him at Chicago Cornerstone Laying.

Chicago, May 27.—The city of Chicago is too poor to pay the expense of having President Taft lay the cornerstone of the new city hall. Therefore the council committee on public buildings has abandoned the plan of inviting the chief executive.

The members of the committee figured that it would cost $5,000 to have the celebration they had planned. The city would have to hire bands at the union scale, get out a fancy program, purchase several yards of bunting, erect a platform for the speakers, invest in some souvenir for the distinguished guest, hire some automobiles to take the president for a ride through the park, and perhaps have a banquet. There were other items which went into the figuring. It was too much.

TUFTS COLLEGE.

A Department of Education to Be Established.

Tufts college has a great demand for teachers, and next fall a preliminary step is to be taken through which the students can specialize in this branch of work. It is intended to establish a department of education. This title has been substituted for the old term pedagogy in accordance with the growing usage in other colleges. The significance of the new department lies in the fact that it will probably be the beginning of larger things in the specific training of teachers. President Hamilton is desirous that the college should enlarge its work in this direction, so that the courses in the history of education will form a regular part of the curriculum. These courses, together with a year of psychology, will meet the needs of the students who hope to obtain positions in the best city schools. Professor Herbert E. Cushman of the department of philosophy will take charge when the department is introduced, and will be assisted by teachers of secondary schools, who will give lectures on methods of teaching.
